

"A journey of thousand miles must begin with a single step."

- LAO TZU

A Visit To A Farm In The Neighbourhood

Introduction

Class KG went on for their first outdoor exploration to Zaildar Farm, commencing their day with a lively "CIRCLE TIME." During this session, they were briefed about the rules and objectives of the visit, setting the tone for an enriching experience.

KG A

KG B

Departure from School

With excitement bubbling, children were paired with buddies and formed a line near the school gate. Before departing, they received a briefing on road safety, ensuring a secure journey beyond the school premises.

Exploration at Zaildar Farm

Upon reaching the farm gate, the children greeted the security guard with cheerful "good mornings" and "Namaste". Their exploration journey kicked off with wide-eyed wonder. They encountered a variety of flora and fauna, each encounter offering a new learning opportunity.- They marvelled at the tomato plants, exclaiming, "Arey yeh to tamatar hai!"

- Learning extended to the realm of nature's textures as they explored a tall tree, distinguishing between hard and soft bark, different shapes and various colours were reinforcing their understanding of tactile and visual sensations.

- Their journey continued with a visit to the cow shed, where they met three cows and a playful calf, delighting in the opportunity to touch and pet the gentle animals.

Further Exploration

As they traversed deeper into the farm, the children encountered lemon, mango, and papaya trees, evoking memories and anecdotes. One child nostalgically remarked, "mere gaon me bhi mirchi aur dhaniya ugta hai," connecting their farm experience with their personal backgrounds.

Enriching Encounters

Near the swimming pool, an image of a dolphin sparked a wave of excitement among the children and ignited their imaginations and curiosity.

Rest and Reflection

After an eventful exploration, the children rested in the shade, replenishing their energy for the journey back. Expressing gratitude, they bid farewell to the farm owner and gave a thank you card before heading back to school.

Recollection

Back at school, the children gathered to recollect and share their experiences from the neighboring farm, cementing the memories of their immersive adventure through illustration of their observation.

Conclusion

The visit to Zaildar Farm proved to be a memorable experience, igniting curiosity and fostering a deeper connection with nature. As the children returned to their classrooms, they carried with them a new found appreciation for the wonders of the natural world.

Report by: Elizabeth Varghese